OUR VERDICT

One calm dashboard instead of a dozen scattered tools

All-in-one PC care

Windows has plenty of maintenance tools, but they are spread across Settings, Task Manager, Disk Cleanup and the command line. Helix One PC gathers them in one modern dashboard: a health overview with system information, a Smart Scan, Storage Cleaner and Disk Cleaner, Startup Manager and Performance Center, Driver Health, Apps Manager, Network Tools, a Security Center that shows your Windows Security and firewall status, and Repair Tools that run Windows' own DISM and SFC checks. Scans can be scheduled and the Reports and Health Timeline views help you see changes over time. The sales page is refreshingly calm — no scare warnings, and it says plainly that results depend on your PC. At $89.99 for a year it is for people who value a guided, all-in-one workflow; the 60-day unconditional refund makes it easy to test on your own machine.

What we like

- Everything in one place. Health, storage, startup, drivers, apps, network and repair in a single dashboard.
- Uses Windows' own repair tools. DISM and SFC checks from a clear interface — no command line.
- Calm, honest marketing. No fake alarms; the seller says results depend on your system.
- Scheduled scans. Let routine checks run by themselves.
- Fast support promise. Reply within about 4 hours by e-mail, per the seller.
- Safe to try. 60-day unconditional refund through the Digistore24 offer.

Good to know

- Not an antivirus. The Security Center shows Windows Security status; keep Windows Security or your antivirus running.
- No free trial. You buy the 1-year licence; the 60-day refund is your trial.
- Registry tools: be careful. Microsoft does not support registry cleaners — use "review" only and create a restore point first.
- New offer. Listed on Digistore24 since September 2026; a renewal after the year is a new purchase.
