OUR VERDICT

Tasteful German one-pagers for less than a lunch

Best value DACH sites

Selfora OnePage Pro is made by Selfora, a German web-design studio run by Patrick Werner in Haibach, Bavaria — and it shows in the designs. You get 12 premium one-page website designs in four design families, edit your texts, images and content in a browser studio, preview the result and export a finished website as HTML, CSS, JavaScript and image files to upload to any web host. It works locally, without an account or subscription, includes three example projects and user guides in English and German, and your personal licence covers unlimited websites for yourself and your clients. The seller is upfront about the key point: the studio speaks English and German, but the websites it creates are in German — ideal for businesses in Germany, Austria and Switzerland. At €24.95 once with a 60-day money-back guarantee for consumers, it is excellent value for tradespeople, small businesses and freelancers serving the DACH market.

What we like

- Designer quality. 12 premium designs in four families from a German web studio.
- No coding. Edit text, images and content, then preview.
- Clean export. HTML, CSS, JavaScript and images — host anywhere.
- Private and simple. Runs locally in the browser, no account or subscription.
- Unlimited sites. Build for yourself and your clients under your licence.
- Tiny price, safe to try. €24.95 once, 60-day money-back guarantee for consumers.

Good to know

- German websites only. The generated sites are in German; for English sites choose another builder.
- One-page sites. Designed for single-page websites, not large multi-page sites or shops.
- Hosting not included. You upload the exported files to your own web host.
- Updates not guaranteed. The seller says regular feature updates are not promised; tested on Microsoft Edge (Windows).

Good to know: the hero image is the seller's overview of the twelve designs with a fictional sample business. German websites need an Impressum and a privacy policy (Datenschutzerklärung) — add them before you publish.

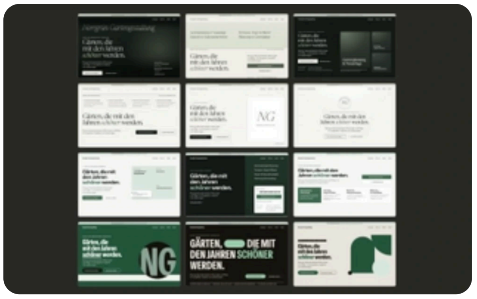
HOW IT WORKS

A company website in four steps

1

Choose a design

Pick one of the 12 designs or start from one of the three example projects.



2

Add your content

Replace the sample texts and images with your business name, services, photos and contact details.

Name & slogan	yours
Services	your list
Images	your photos
Contact	phone, e-mail, address

3

Preview

Check the site in the preview on desktop and mobile layouts before exporting.

Desktop	✔
Mobile	✔
Language	German
Account	not needed

4

Export and upload

Export the finished site as a ZIP with HTML, CSS, JavaScript and images and upload it to your web host.

Export	ZIP
Files	HTML · CSS · JS · images
Host	any
Subscription	none

SETUP GUIDE

Setup guide: from download to a live German website

One afternoon. Have your texts, photos, logo, Impressum and privacy text ready.

1

Check the language

Make sure a German-language website is what you need — that is what Selfora creates.

2

Buy and download

Check out through Digistore24 and download the software right away. Keep the order e-mail for the guarantee.

3

Open the studio

Unzip and open the studio in a desktop browser (tested on Microsoft Edge, Windows). No account is needed.

4

Start from an example

Open one of the three example projects or pick one of the 12 designs.

💡 Read the English or German user guide first — it takes ten minutes.

5

Replace the content

Add your business name, services, photos, opening hours and contact details.

6

Add legal pages

Include an Impressum and a privacy policy (Datenschutzerklärung), as required for German websites.

7

Preview and export

Check desktop and mobile in the preview, then export the site as HTML, CSS, JavaScript and images.

8

Upload to your host

Upload the exported files to your web host (e.g. via the host's file manager or FTP) and connect your domain.
